

Aging in the Willamette Valley Interview

Aging in the Willamette Valley host John Hughes interviewed me for My Beautiful Life Story: “Life is busy. If arranging your photos & preserving your stories has been on your to-do list, there is no time like the present to make it happen. Memories, like photos, fade away, and time is fleeting. Photo albums that weren’t archived can damage images, and memorabilia, slides, and images stored incorrectly can become a real mess to salvage.”

During the interview, I talk about how my services preserve photos, memories, and stories for children and grandchildren who may not know the stories behind the pictures.

This podcast originally aired on January 1, 2019 on KМУZ 100.7 at noon.