

Year End Goodbye 2020 PHNW

Once a month one of Personal Historians NW members elects to write a blog post.

I authored the February '21 blog post as an auld lang syne to 2020. It was a year filled with many reasons to be grateful.

After hearing about our many accomplishments throughout the year it, the blog's tone was fitting. "Personal historians express gratitude for challenges and changes in 2020"

Here's hoping 2020 gave you pause to consider the rich fabric of your family and relationships.
